About Workforce

Professional trainings to open a new chapter for businesses.

HR Solutions | Benefits

During the pandemic, companies need to have resilience and flexibility in order to react correctly under the any-time-changing situation. Organization restructure or lay-offs could reveal issues such as employees lacking proper skills and inadequate management strategies.

The Adecco Group Taiwan offers trainings and personality assessment, allowing companies to provide specific and professional guidance for a certain group of talents. Without spending extra hiring costs, companies can develop the right skills under the same roof and train these workers to become the future key leaders.
